

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Annual of Language & Politics and Politics of Identity welcomes academic contributions for the upcoming issues. ALPPI is a peer-reviewed journal published by the Institute of Political Studies, Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University in Prague. It is committed to exploring divergent scholarly opinions, theories and ideas of current international and Czech experts, and is a forum for discussion and hopes to encourage free-thinking and debate among academics, young researchers and professionals over issues of importance to language politics and politics of identity.

The journal is included in SCOPUS database, indexed with and included in Google Scholar, EBSCO and CEEOL.

Contributions are sought for exploring themes including (but not limited to):

- development, implementation and effects of language policies
- identity construction and nation building
- nationalism
- minority-majority relations
- ethnic diversity / assimilation

Deadline for submission: September 30, 2014.

Please note that articles and book reviews must be submitted electronically via our online system (available at <http://alppi.vedeckecasopisy.cz>). The Annual of Language & Politics and Politics of Identity is published both in print and online version.

Articles must include a brief biographical note for each author including contact information. For more information, visit the official website of the journal: alppi.eu.
