“Spanish Law, Politics and Economics”

1-12 July, 2013

Universidad Autónoma de Madrid

Summer School "Spanish Law, Politics and Economics" (1-12 July, 2013)

Presentation

The Summer School "Spanish Law, Politics and Economics" is organized by the Faculty of Law at Universidad Autónoma de Madrid. Its aim is to provide students with an introductory knowledge of some aspects of the Spanish legal, political and economic reality.

The lectures will be complemented by daily visits to institutions or other activities such as practical cases or films related to the different topics.

The lectures will be taught in English.

Destinataries

The Summer School is addressed especially to foreign students from any field of study or profession who wish to become acquainted with basic current aspects of the Spanish legal, political and economic reality, as well as have first-hand knowledge of some of the basic political institutions in Spain. Spanish students interested in the course are also welcome to apply.

It is necessary to have a good knowledge of the English language (level B2 is advisable).

Contents

The Summer School is structured along ten sessions of 5 hours long each, in which lectures will usually last 2 hours, and the rest of the time will be dedicated to visits and practical activities related to the topic discussed.

ECTS credits

Students can achieve 3 ECTS upon attending the sessions, participating in the scheduled activities and passing the evaluation tests.

Venue

Faculty of Law at Universidad Autónoma de Madrid (Cantoblanco).

The university is 15 Kms. far from the center of Madrid and is very well communicated by bus and train. As an example, from the center of Madrid (Puerta del Sol) it takes 20 ms. by train to get to the campus.
